GENEALOGY GAZETTE

In the fall of 2009, Mountain Press started the "Genealogy Gazette;" a free of charge monthly e-mail newsletter to help in your research. Our overall theme is "Brick Walls Are Only Curtains" meaning they are not solid so we can work around them, under them or even through them. This is a monthly newsletter with a different article each month pertaining to research and how we can overcome these "brick walls". To sign up to receive this free newsletter, simply go to our website at www.mountainpress.com and look in the upper right column. This is a two step process where you fill in your e-mail address and then you must confirm through an e-mail sent to you. These addresses are not shared with anyone else. When you sign up, click on the link to see the archives of all of the past articles.

ORDERING INFORMATION

Normally, Mountain Press tries to get all orders out in 24 to 48 hours after receiving and processing those orders. We receive orders in a variety of methods, i.e. e-mail, mail order, dealers. For all credit cards our line is a secure line that comes directly to the ordering department. You can feel safe in leaving your information on the answering machine. If you prefer, however, leave us a telephone number and a good time to return your call. We will make every effort to assist you in ordering.

We DO NOT share addresses, telephone numbers or any other information with anyone else in the business or in any other business for that matter.

RETURN POLICY

Mountain Press is in the business of selling information for historical and genealogical research. The nature of our business limits our return policy. We make every attempt to give as much information, especially via our website, on each of our 2200 pieces. However, we cannot guarantee that you will find the information you are seeking in a particular book.

Therefore, we accept a return of any of our materials for the following reasons ONLY:

- 1] The wrong book sent from the one ordered.
- 2] Damaged in transit.
- 3] Books improperly assembled

Return postage will be refunded in each of these three categories only.

Thank you for your business

Following the War and the general amnesty there were fourteen exclusions for the soldiers. If one fell under one or more of these exclusions, there was no pardon and the individual had to apply for a special personal pardon from President Johnson. Over 15,000 men applied and this book is a compilation of the five documents from the House of Representatives giving their names, reason for exclusion and those who were Union citizens who vouched for them are given here - some 30,000 names in our index.

GEORGIA COUNTY HISTORY AND BIOGRAPHIES

Various counties in Georgia have been completed with their history and a selection of biographical records added. These are taken from two different sources: Memoirs of Georgia & Historical Collection of Georgia by George White. Each of these are soft bound, full name indexed and represent a good source of information on each county. See under each county for code and price.

GEORGIA COUNTY RECORDS

There are two series of census in our catalog. The first is the 1840 Georgia County Census Index. This set of records gives only the names of those living in the county at the time. The 1860 Georgia County Census Index is an alphabetical listing of the heads of households with house numbers and some limited information on each. The original must be consulted in either series. A few of the 1860s do contain all the information and these are not listed as "Index". Both series were done by Frances T. Ingmire.

KENTUCKY MIGRATES TO MISSOURI BEFORE 1900 - James L. Douthat - 100 pages - soft cover - 2017.

This listing of the persons from Kentucky that went to Missouri before 1900 is derived from a number of sources, especially the Patrons of the Atlas which is a township by township listing of all of the residents in that area at the time of the enumeration, usually 1875-1878. This gives the birth place of the individual, the date they came to Missouri, current address and occupation. Other listings are taken from death registers of various counties. KY-0267 $27.50

PIONEER KENTUCKIANS WITH MISSOURI COUSINS Frances T. Ingmire - two volumes of Missouri records showing over 65,000 persons born in Kentucky, but who by 1850 are living in Missouri.

MARYLAND RECORDS

PRINCE GEORGE COUNTY, MARYLAND - 1776 CENSUS - 106 pages - soft cover - full name index - reprinted 2019

At the time of it's creation the county was divided into six districts also known as "Hundreds" and these were: Mattapany, Petuxant, Collington, Mount Calvert, Piscattoway and New Scotland.

In this collection of the census is shown in a facsimile of original census taker's hand written forms. Since there was no standardized form, is accounting is done in several different ways in this collection. In some cases, the head of the household is given with the names and ages of each of those living in that household, including the names and ages of the slaves. In other cases, the names and age of the head of the household and spouse are given with the children listed by age and sex only. The same with slaves in these cases.

RECORDS

LAND GRANTS IN MISSOURI TERRITORY - 1805-1812 - 291 pages - soft cover - full name index - reprinted 2021.

In this set of records are American, Spanish and French settlers prior to the Louisiana Purchase, who laid their claims before the Commissioners to have them verified. Almost all of these claimant stated where the claim is located, but the best information comes from the "witness". If a claimant files on more than one piece of land there might be multi-witnesses.

1833 CITIZENS RECORDS

The following books are taken from official government documents detailing the petitions sent to Congress in 1833 from the citizens of each county requesting that the government keep their federal banks within the boundaries of the county. In cross checking the census of 1830-1840 of these areas, a large percent of the citizens signed the petitions.

TENNESSEE RECORDS

W.P.A. RECORDS

When the term "WPA" is used in the description of a book, this means that this volume is a copy of one of the original books produced during the depression by the Works Projects Association workers. These persons went into each of the counties of Tennessee or were local persons given jobs to transcribe the early court records, family records, Bible records, cemetery records and other local records of interest to the supervisors. Many of these records were not returned to the State Archives. Mountain Press owns one of the largest private collections of the originals and in many cases, we have the original hand copied version. These are in the process of being typed to make the information available. The original versions were typed on onion skin paper with a number of carbon copies. The State Archives owns the vast majority of the 'first' or typed copy, but the carbons have circulated for years. These are now very scattered. Sometimes the typing is not the best and they are hard to read, but they still constitute one of the best sources of records for a county. In many cases, these are all that remain of the original as many county records have been lost.

The WPA records are generally full text transcription and therefore, they are much larger in scope than an abstraction or summary. This is especially true for the county court minutes.

THE OVERMOUNTAIN MEN - Swan M. Burnett - 26 pages - soft cover - reprinted 2017

The role the Overmountain men played in the history of Tennessee is well known, however, there is a story behind why these men walked over several mountains to pitch battle against their own relatives wearing red coats is still a mystery. Mr. Burnett goes into depth as to why these staunch pioneers who were willing to carve a new country from the unknown were willing to fight for their freedom and the ability to choose their own destiny. This spirit played out later during the Civil War as these same people came together to fight again. However, in this latter fight, many of the families were divided both North and South. This essay goes into the spirit behind the fighting men and their families.

TENNESSEANS IN THE CHEROKEE WARS - James L. Douthat - 154 pages - soft cover - alphabetical listing - 2017

In the late 1830s there was an outcry to move all Native Americans to the western lands. The Cherokee located in the western North Carolina, southeastern Tennessee and northwestern Georgia were to be moved to Oklahoma Territory. The U. S. Government called on each Governor of these states to form militia units to help with the rounding up of the Cherokee and then the Army would take them west. Tennessee's call went out and hundreds of volunteers came forth. This all sounds simple, but it was more complex than this. The National Archives lumps several different events into one listing, "Cherokee Wars". First it was not a war in the real sense and second some of the units called up did not help with the Cherokee, but instead were sent south to help with the Seminole in the Second Seminole War. This is listing of all of the men from Tennessee who answered the call to aid in the round up.

BLEDSOE COUNTY, TENNESSEE - Civil War Soldiers - 53 pages - soft cover - full name index - 2017

Bledsoe County, the oldest county in Sequatchie Valley that divides East Tennessee from Middle Tennessee. Sequatchie Valley from the Crossville, Tennessee area down into Alabama being the longest valley in the world. The Civil War records include the information and minutes of the Grand Army of the Republic Post 98 or the Lewis Collins Post for the Union soldiers. Their information was gleaned from various sources including the 1890 Federal Soldiers Census and G.A. R. Records. The Confederate soldiers were gleaned from many more sources as there was no real collection of them to be found in the county, except for the 1890 Federal Soldiers Census which did include a few of the Confederates. The final portion of the volume includes an alphabetical listing of both Union and Confederate soldiers. Some of these are marked with the army represented but some are not. The scant information we have on many of them is not enough to determine which army in which they belonged. Both sides had units of the same number so only if the captains and or commanding officer was given it was sometimes impossible to determine which army was involved.

GREENE COUNTY, TENNESSEE - COMPENDIUM - 1783 - 1799 - James L. Douthat - 106 pages - soft cover - alphabetical listing - 2018.

This collection of records for the time period help to establish the names of early settlers in the region. When created, Greene County went from Sullivan/Washington County south to the Georgia State Line on the north side of the Tennessee River. We know it extended that far south from a grant at the mouth of the Hiwassee River in present day Rhea County, Tennessee.

These records are taken from various sources such as grants, deeds, marriage records, church records, biographies, and general histories of the area. There are other records for this county but the dates do not match our parameters. Most of the records used were from our private collection of Tennessee material as well as from libraries and the State Archives. TN-1444 $29.00

In this little publication you will find a good overview of the county with the events, places, and status of the county in the year 1912. Many of the industries listed are now no longer in existence and many of the resorts no longer operate, but their memories are very much alive in the minds of the citizens of the county. The reader will find taken back to a much simpler time in history and a deeper understanding of life as it was in those days.

SEQUATCHIE COUNTY, TENNESSEE - Births and Deaths 1881-1913 - James L. Douthat - 45 pages - soft cover - full name index - 2017

These births and deaths are some of the rare items in Tennessee development. Most of the counties of Tennessee did not start keeping these records until after 1912. The records may or may not be complete, but they fill in a gap in the history of an area during the 1880 to 1900 period when the Federal Census are no longer available. This is a very vital time period when one is doing their family tree. The spelling of the names may vary from the normal but this is copied just as the clerk wrote the information.

These records are a combination of those pages of the W.P.A. materials sent to the State Archives when the project ended in 1940 and those pages not returned to the Archives but retained by the State Supervisor of the total project for further work. In the 1980s, Mountain Press purchased those non-returned files from the estate of the State Supervisor and in that collection were a large number of these records found in this volume. The total cemeteries cataloged by the W.P.A. was about 126 in all. Most of these are small plots located on various farms around the county. To our surprise, we find there are a large number of persons buried in this county who were born in the 18th century and many fought in the American Revolutionary War.

Tennessee, and before this there was The Territory South of the River Ohio and The State of Franklin and The Watauga Association all after the Washington District of North Carolina which was begun in November 1775. Regardless of the name changes of the area in question the important fact is that this is the earliest listing of residents of the area that was to become Tennessee on June 1, 1796. In looking over the names, we can see the beginnings of the history of the state with these men paying their tax as early as 1778. This early tax list has some unique features in it such as "the name 'single man' or the name 'religion'
such as Dunkers, Minonite, etc" The tax list is unique in it does not account only for livestock or acreage but "cash money on hand". There were no banks at the time so the territory needed to know of financial support if needed. Even when John Sevier became Governor in 1796 he would borrow money from individuals and stores to keep the state solvent.

- TAX LIST 1814 - 1819 - W. P. A. Records
- 177 pages - soft cover - full name index -
reprinted 2018

In this volume, the taxes are collected in the militia companies under the name of their Captain. These companies became to basis for the later Civil Districts established by the State in 1835. We have included a catalog of those Captains and the years of the taxes collected under them. TN-1446

VIRGINIA RECORDS

1835 VIRGINIA PENSIONERS OF THE
AMERICAN REVOLUTIONARY WAR
RESIDENTS - J. T. McAllister - 80 pages - soft cover - reprinted 2019

This is an inventory of those soldiers who were living in the year 1835. This volume contains two listings, first the names of those pensioners who have moved outside of Virginia and the list shows the state and county they lived in at the time. The second listing is of those who remained in state and are shown with the name of the county at the time. VA-0771 $24.00

PENSIONERS OF VIRGINIA MILITIA
IN REVOLUTIONARY WAR - J. T.

McAllister - 231 pages - soft cover - location index - battles index - full name index - reprinted 2019

During the American Revolutionary War, Virginia contributed a huge number of men to fight for the freedom of the country. After the war many were pensioned with either land or money. In 1835 and accounting of those men was taken. Presented in this volume are the service records and biographical sketches of several hundred of those pensioned soldiers.

TEES OF SAFETY OF CUMBERLAND AND ISLE OF
WIGHT COUNTIES OF VIRGINIA - 1775-1776 - 54 pages - soft cover - full name index - reprinted 2017

The Committee of Safety for these two counties was responsible for the safety of the county meaning that they directed the militia of the area whenever there was trouble with the hostile element who roamed the countryside. In some cases it was the Indians from local tribes and most of the time from pirates just plain highway men who robbed travelers. In a couple of years their job would be transferred to the plight of the colonist against the mother country. At that time they would be on the look out for Tories in the neighborhood.

THE VIRGINIANS ON THE OHIO
AND MISSISSIPPI 1742 - by Fairfax

Harrison - 24 pages - soft cover - full name index and index to other items, i.e. creeks, rivers, etc. - reprinted 2018.

According to Samuel Kercheval, written in 1833 there is the story of on John Howard and his son who discovered the Valley of the South Branch, crossed the Alleghany Mountains and on the Ohio killed a very large buffalo bull. They took the hide and stretched it over a wooden frame of ribs and floated down the Ohio River and onto the Mississippi in 1742. It is recorded in the Executive Journal of the Virginia Council that as early as 1737 this same John Howard offered to go onto the Lakes and Mississippi River to explore. This volume is his story and records of that exploration. VA-0738 $7.50

THE SETTLEMENT OF

SOUTHWEST VIRGINIA - Judge Lyman Chalkley - 26 pages - soft cover - full name index - reprinted 2018

Southwestern Virginia was a area opened for settlement in the early eighteenth century and settlers came by the droves. However, it was a very contested area as the Native Americans were there first and claimed this land as theirs. The early settlers built forts and formed several methods of defense to keep their settlement safe. At the same time, these early settlers were people of adventure and they always wanted to know what was just over the next hill. The more they explored, the more they were impressed with the land and the bounty of it. This volume is their story from the early days.

This is one of the earliest of tax listing for the county and is very important as so many of the colonial soldiers from this county moved west following the Revolutionary War and settled in what is now Kentucky. Virginia settled many of the claims against it for service in the war, therefore giving land in the western portion of the state in lieu of payment for their service.

INFORMATION

If you would like to continue getting information about sales, promotions and new materials you need to “opt in” on the opening page of the website. This allows us to send you information on new products and promotions.

You have to select to opt in with your e-mail address in order to obtain this information.

Do you have “brick walls” that are in your way of research. We present a series of articles to help you climb over, go under or get around these walls. On the opening page of our website are two different links to this series. You can subscribe to receive them every few weeks free of charge. Many different subjects are offered in this series. Feel free to make comments.

Check out our second website - www.southerngenealogybooks.com . There you will find a good listing of out of print books for sale at a reasonable price. They are listed under “JLD Library”. Many of them are from our library at Mountain Press and some are extra copies we have acquired over the years.
